Montemar Eco Luxury Villas

About Your Stay

Montemar are the first luxury, sustainable villas in the Galapagos Islands, owned and run by a local family who provide an authentic, transformative, and personalized experience, in a safe, exclusive and natural environment, with the minimum environmental impact on the islands.

Located in the natural habitat of the iconic Galapagos Giant Tortoises, Montemar consists of two beautifully appointed villas with a total capacity of 12 guests, in a 43-acre property, offering privacy and plenty of opportunities to connect with nature and wildlife.

Guests at Montemar enjoy the personalized attention of the owners, who create unique and meaningful experiences in the Galapagos, using their knowledge, experience and passion for the islands. Each trip is carefully planned, combining the exploration of the islands in search for wildlife colonies, interaction with the local community, and time to relax and enjoy at your own pace.

Montemar is at the forefront of sustainability in Galapagos: green energy, harvested water, sustainable architecture. It has its own biodynamic and organic garden which produces most of what is consumed at the guest table, including Montemar's own organic coffee. Montemar is a zero plastic-of-single-use property and all its amenities are biodegradable.

Feel at home in your own private villa, connect with nature, unwind, and collect happy memories at Montemar.
